

Enhancing Responsible Research and Innovation through Curricula in Higher Education

Policymakers Workshop

The EnRRICH consortium invites you to participate in a Policymakers Workshop on embedding Responsible Research and Innovation in higher education curricula.

This approach has a twofold benefit of interest to policymakers.

- It addresses key challenges for European higher education as laid out in the Renewed European Union Agenda for Higher Education (2017), namely building skills, addressing social divisions, improving capacity for innovation and integrating teaching and learning with research;
- It develops a pipeline of engaged researchers who can better tackle grand societal challenges and sustainable development goals and contribute to the research vision of Open Innovation, Open Access, Open to the World.

At this event we will:

- Offer brief findings from the project;
- Host a discussion on issues of shared interest with international experts from research, education and engagement;
- Showcase posters with examples of practice from consortium partners across Europe.

Hosted by Member of the European Parliament Lieve Wierinck, the Alliance of Liberals and Democrats for Europe and the EnRRICH consortium.
